

I am really looking forward to September, as Project Trust have selected me to work in South Africa for 12 months working as a volunteer and I can't wait to go!

I will be working at an outdoor activity centre in West Cape. My year will consist of teaching climbing, sailing and canoeing to disadvantaged children under the age of 14 from a wide range of social and ethnic backgrounds.

I will be helping the children to further their personal development by encouraging them to build their self esteem and confidence, team work and English skills. I will thoroughly enjoy participating in this, as I have always been interested in outdoor activities and feel it will be a fantastic opportunity for me to experience.

Project Trust is a charity based on the Hebridian Isle of Coll, that gives students the opportunity to participate in voluntary work overseas.

I have pledged to fundraise
